

Google Summer of Code™

Leslie Hawthorn - lh@google.com

2005

flip bits not burgers

4500 USD

3 month project

evaluations by mentors

400 students

40 FOSS projects

49 countries

in numbers

2005

400 students
40 organizations
49 countries

80% final success rate

2006

630 students
100 organizations
90 countries

82% final success rate

2007

900 students
130 organizations
90 countries

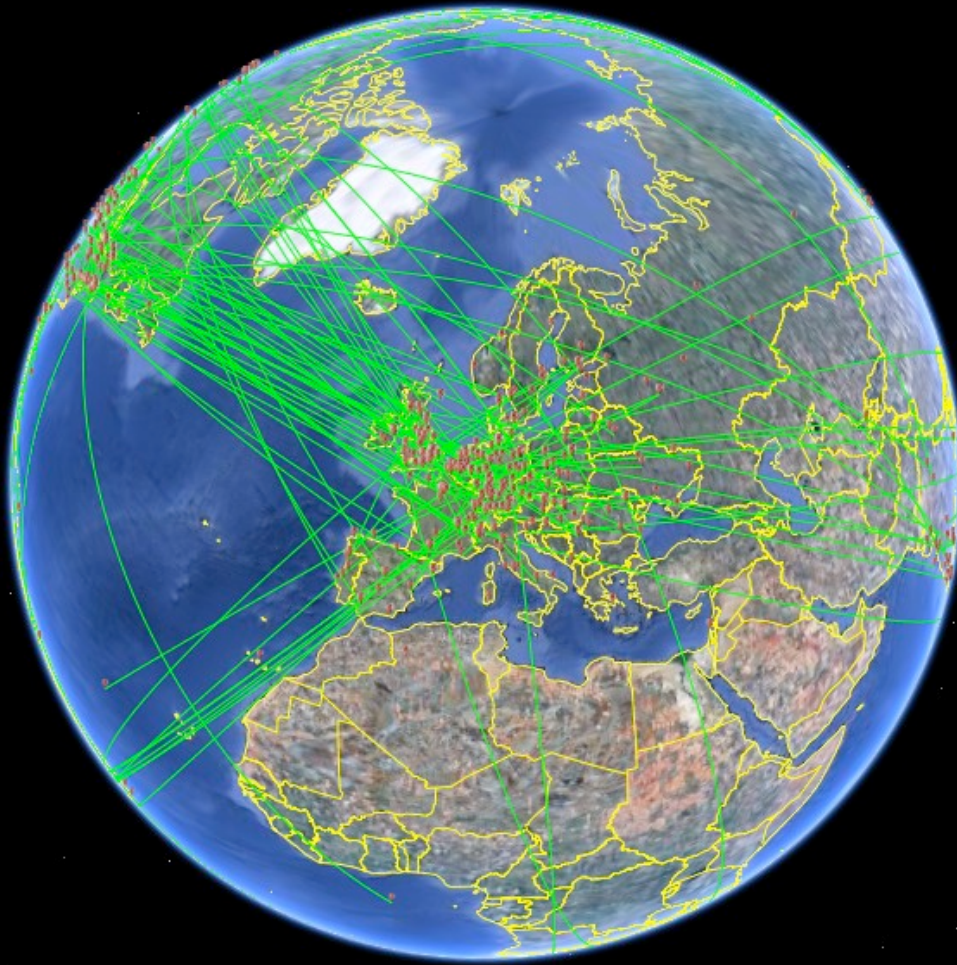

81% final success rate

2008

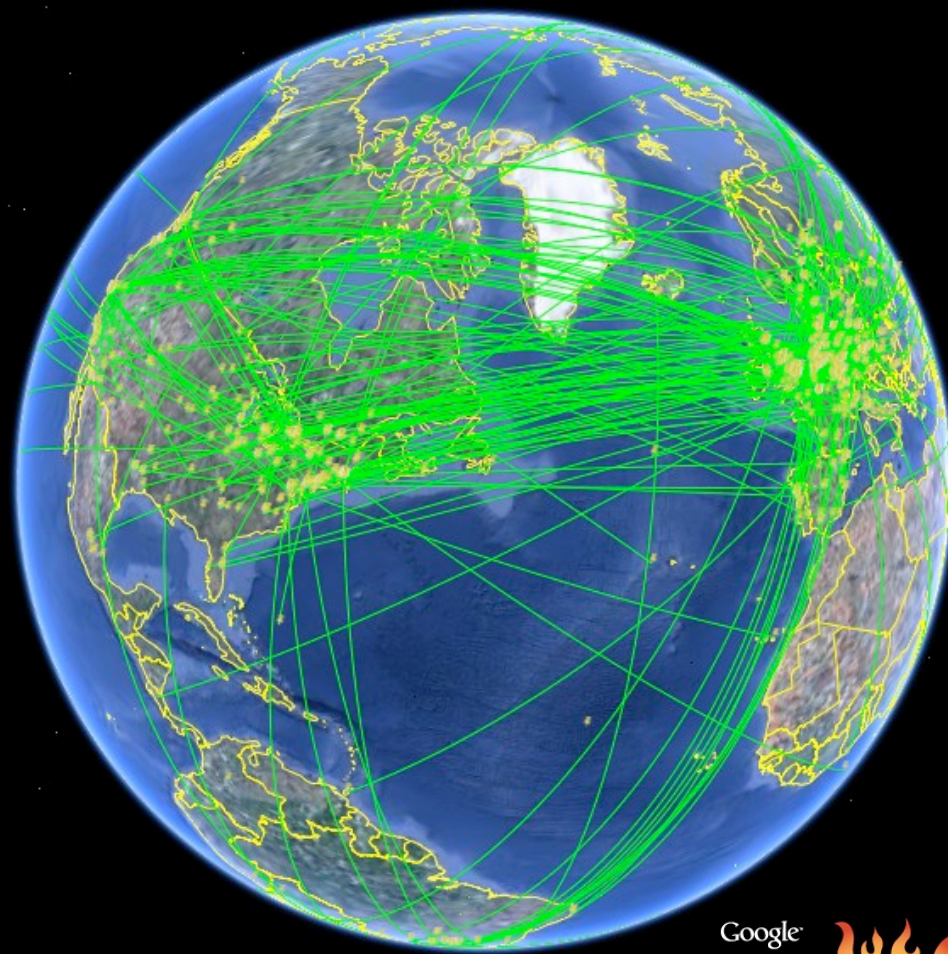

1125 students
175 organizations
98 countries

83% final success rate

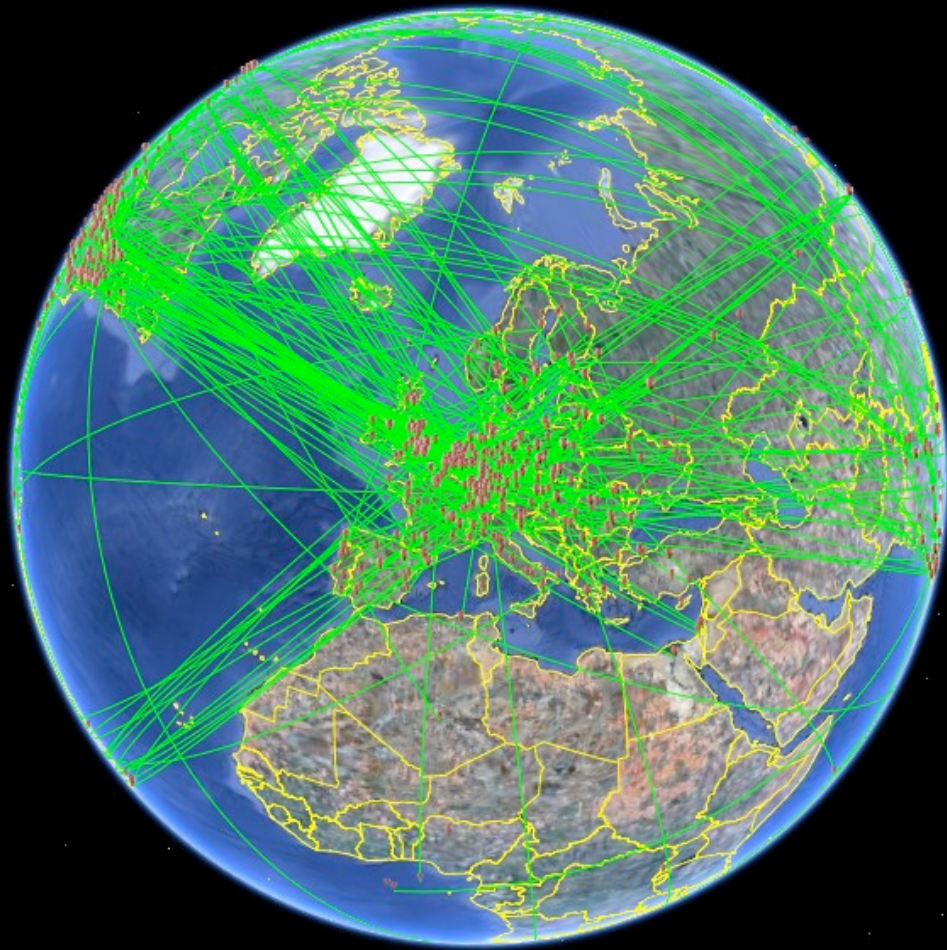

2006

2007

2008

2006 + 2007 + 2008

2009

~3500 applicants

1,000 students

70 countries

150 FOSS projects

93% midterm success rate

Shown here actual size....

Dressed to Live

Without this, Paul cannot live on DUNE. Connect the dots to find out what it is.

Melange

<http://code.google.com/p/soc/>

Resources

Google Summer of Code

<http://code.google.com/soc/>

Melange project

<http://code.google.com/p/soc/>

Open Source at Google

<http://code.google.com/opensource/>

Google Open Source Blog

<http://google-opensource.blogspot.com>

The background consists of several overlapping white rectangular cards. Each card features a large, bold, black question mark. The cards are arranged in a way that creates a sense of depth and layering, with some cards partially obscured by others. The overall color palette is monochromatic, using only black, white, and shades of gray.

Q & A

Thank You

Leslie Hawthorn - lh@google.com

identi.ca/lh